Any suggestions? Thank you! im so happy i found this software when I have 2 million songs in my itunes library and need to figure out how to add them to my ipod and get them out of itunes. I don't want my whole music library on my ipod. This software is great if you use itunes to sync music. If you don't use itunes, you might find it hard to use this program. It takes a while to learn, but I am learning how to use it and it is very efficient and I have all of my music on my ipod. Dude, I am downloading it as we speak, and the file is about a million times smaller than iTunes, and can be used with my external hard drive. The only thing I've had trouble with is that you can't record your own play list, and that you can't make it so I can see the whole playlist from my PC. It's just something to think about as it would probably be useful for you. It's a lot smaller than iTunes, but I'm not sure I'd really use it for anything, given that you have a lot of music in your iTunes library. I got the trial version but can't use it to get my songs out of iTunes. It gets stuck on "exporting..." and nothing happens. I'm on a Mac running Leopard. Anybody else have this problem? I don't want to pay for something that doesn't work. You are right, the Export feature is really slow, especially if you have a lot of songs. If you are having this problem, try to export from the ipod to iTunes directly, without trying to export it through this software. The process is simple, follow the steps below: 1. Open iTunes 2. Click on the menu bar item "More" and select "iPod" 3. Make sure your ipod is connected to your Mac 4. Click on "Options" 5. Click on the menu bar item "iPod" 6. Make sure "Sync to this ipod" is selected 7. Click on "Back" 8. Click on "OK" 9. Click on "OK" Now you can see that the songs you have saved on your ipod should appear on iTunes. The first time you do this, iTunes might ask you to import any songs from your itunes library. If this doesn't 82157476af
